

#SUCCESSTORY

My journey at Podar World College has indeed been a rollercoaster of different emotions and, at the same time, different experiences. I remember the first year in podar was extremely exciting for me because I saw many opportunities where I could develop my skills and be an extrovert look towards more opportunities, especially while conducting and managing events in the college. Studying different courses and at the same time being able to gain knowledge from different subjects was also one of the things which helped me inculcate in my personal life.

Conducting more than four to five events in college, be it offline or online, and studying different aspects, especially mainly about enterprise and entrepreneurs in the third year, has been extremely beneficial for me in my professional life as I joined my family businesses.

#SUCCESSTORY

The exposure and experience that I gained from conducting events and managing different people helped me to understand what goes on in conducting and managing people in the workplace while being effective and productive at the same time.

Having different knowledge about enterprises, enterprising factors, and the different market conditions has also helped me advise and produce innovative decisions in my family business, which has helped my business expand to different sectors while seeking opportunities present in the markets. I'm definitely looking forward to my last year in this college.

Podar World College has helped me develop myself and become a completely different person, which has helped me hire extends in my professional businesses.
